Small Beginnings, Great Increase

Impact Even When You Feel Insignificant · Job 8:7

Read it. Talk about it. Live it.

OVERVIEW

This message was a prophetic word of encouragement centered on Job 8:7, which declares that though a beginning may appear small, the latter end will bring great increase. The speaker called the church to embrace faith, prayer, fasting, generosity, and worship as the foundations for the growth and harvest God has promised.

KEY SCRIPTURE

Job 8:7 — Though a beginning may seem small and insignificant, God promises that the latter end will bring extraordinary increase and abundance.

Supporting Passages to Explore Together:

- Joel 2:25 — God's promise to restore what has been lost or consumed
- Mark 9:29 — The role of prayer and fasting in spiritual breakthrough
- Malachi 3:10 — The connection between faithful giving and God's blessing
- Matthew 17:20 — The power of even a small measure of faith
- Psalm 115:14 — God's desire to increase His people

FOUR PROPHETIC WORDS FOR THE CHURCH

The speaker declared four words as a prophetic promise over this season:

1. Increase — Growth in finances, relationships, and spiritual life
2. Restoring — God bringing back what has been broken, lost, or delayed
3. Fruitfulness — Productivity and purpose flowing from faithfulness
4. Multiplication — One act of obedience expanding far beyond what is visible

DISCUSSION QUESTIONS

Opening Question — Getting the Conversation Started

- When you think about a season of small beginnings in your own life, what emotions come to mind? Was it difficult to trust God during that time?

Section 1: Small Beginnings Do Not Define the Ending

The speaker said, "What starts small does not mean it will stay small. So don't get a small mindset."

1. In what areas of your life are you tempted to measure your worth or potential by what you currently see rather than what God has promised?
2. The speaker used the image of a tiny lettuce seed to illustrate hidden potential. How does that image challenge the way you view your current circumstances?
3. Read Job 8:7 together. What does it mean personally to you that God is not finished with your story?

Section 2: The Role of Prayer and Fasting

The speaker emphasized, "Where God's taking you, you've got to pray and fast right now more than you've ever before."

1. How consistent is your personal prayer life right now? What is one honest obstacle that keeps you from praying more?
2. The speaker described prayer as talking to Jesus like he is your friend. Does that description reflect how you currently approach prayer? Why or why not?
3. Have you ever experienced a specific answer to prayer that came after a period of persistent seeking? Share that experience with the group.
4. What would it look like practically for you to add one day of fasting per week to your spiritual routine?

Section 3: Faithful Giving and Caring for the Church

The speaker said, "If you take care of God's house, God will take care of your house."

1. What is your honest relationship with tithing and giving? Is it an act of faith, an obligation, or something you are still working through?
2. Beyond financial giving, what are some practical ways your group could support and encourage your pastor and church community this month?
3. The speaker talked about seed offerings as a response to feeling spiritually or financially stuck. Have you ever given sacrificially in a difficult season? What happened?

Section 4: Worship as a Weapon

The speaker said, "The enemy fights your worship. So raise your hands. Move your feet."

1. Do you think of worship as a spiritual weapon? How does that perspective change the way you engage during a church service?
2. What distractions or internal barriers most often keep you from fully entering into worship?
3. The speaker described watching things fall off a person while they worshiped. What burdens, fears, or strongholds do you need to bring before God in worship this week?

Section 5: God Is Still Writing Your Story

The speaker declared, "Our beginning does not define our sending. God is still writing every one of your stories."

1. What is a chapter of your story that felt like failure or loss but that you can now see God was using?
2. The speaker distinguished between a miracle, which is instant, and healing, which is a process. Which do you feel you are currently in need of? How does your group pray for you in that?
3. How does knowing that God sees your private prayers and private pain change the way you approach him?

KEY TAKEAWAYS

- Small beginnings are not a sign of God's absence. They are often the starting point of his greatest work.
- Prayer and fasting are not optional extras. They are essential preparation for the next level God is calling you toward.
- Faithful stewardship of finances, time, and encouragement toward your church creates an environment where God can bring increase.
- Worship is an active, faith-filled weapon, not a passive activity.
- God sees your story in full, including the chapters that have been painful, delayed, or broken, and he is still writing toward a good ending.

PRACTICAL APPLICATIONS

This Week, Choose at Least One:

1. Commit to one day of fasting per week. It does not have to be a full day. Begin with skipping one meal and spending that time in prayer instead.
2. Write down the four prophetic words — Increase, Restoring, Fruitfulness, Multiplication — and place them somewhere visible. Pray over them daily and ask God to show you what each one means specifically for your life.
3. Plant a seed of generosity. Give an offering beyond your regular tithe this week, whether financially or through a practical act of service to your church or pastor.
4. Start a prayer journal. Write down specific things you are believing God for. Date each entry and return to it regularly to record what God does.
5. Engage fully in worship this Sunday. Make a deliberate decision to set aside distraction and give God your full attention through song, raised hands, and an open heart.
6. Pray for your city. Spend five minutes this week specifically praying for your community — for jobs, families, healing, and people who are looking for a church home.

CLOSING PRAYER POINTS

Close your group time by praying together over the following:

- That each person would receive the prophetic words of increase, restoring, fruitfulness, and multiplication personally
- That God would deepen the prayer and fasting lives of every group member
- That healing — spiritual, emotional, physical, and relational — would continue as a process in every life represented
- That Harvest Church would grow into the full harvest its name declares
- That your pastor and pastor's wife would be strengthened, encouraged, and covered in prayer

"Though the beginning was small, yet the latter end shall greatly increase." — Job 8:7
